That's a place called Merrymac or something like that. It's in Katy, TX (a western suburb of Houston). They are on Genie, and you can order direct from them on there, or check directory assistance for their store phone number in Katy. Thier prices are always cheaper than normal Radio Shacks.

A friend of mine just got his licence and hes looking to buy the newest sharpest, most effective HT in town. His two main choices are the between the Yaesu FT-530 and the Kenwood TH-79A. (by the way, when is the UHF VCO tuneup release expected?) I want to know what freqs the TH-79A does once its modded (xmit and rcv) and the actual mods if possible. Any other useful comments/suggestions on this dilemna will be greatly appreciated.

Thanks In Advance

Marymac is a Radio Shack franchise store that sells Radio Shack products through the mail at lower prices than the Radio Shack catalog. They don't charge tax (unless you live in TX) and they include the cost of shipping in the cost of the item.
